

DETROIT DESIGN 2067

A program presented by the Detroit Historical Society's Detroit 67 Project

April 6th – 11th 2020 at Detroit Historical Museum

Detroit Design 2067 is a week-long youth-driven immersion program. It was developed to offer 12 high school juniors and seniors throughout the region an opportunity to be positioned as leaders for the future. This in-depth experience gives youth a chance to reflect on local history, build valuable skills, and envision the future: by exploring Detroit's most valuable community resources & learning how to use problem solving methods as a way to address community challenges.

Student Benefits

- A Scholarship totaling $350.00
- Breakfast & Lunch every day onsite
- A chance to learn about design thinking and how history informs the future
- Unique opportunities to meet and learn with our staff and Detroit 67 Community Partners
- At least one field trip and special tour to a historical site with historian Jamon Jordan

Student Requirements

- Completed Application by February 14, 2020 (5pm)
- Transportation to the museum for daily activities (8:30 am to 3:30 pm)
- Availability to attend Student Orientation on April 4, 2020.
- Enthusiasm about Detroit's History
- A desire to weigh in on Detroit Historical Society's ongoing programs for youth & families
